

Pisang Peak Climbing

Location: Annapurna Circuit, Manang Duration: 18 Days Max altitude: 6,091 m (Pisang Peak summit)

Difficulty: Challenging Group size: 2–8 climbers

Overview

Pisang Peak (6,091 m) sits dramatically above the Annapurna Circuit, offering moderately technical climbing with spectacular views of the Annapurna massif, Manaslu and Tilicho Peak. The expedition combines the legendary Annapurna Circuit trek with a serious summit attempt over the Thorong La pass, providing one of the most varied climbing trips in Nepal.

Highlights

- Summit Pisang Peak (6,091 m)
- Combined Annapurna Circuit trek
- Cross Thorong La pass (5,416 m)
- Stunning Annapurna II & IV views
- Less crowded than Khumbu peaks

Day-by-Day Itinerary

DAY 1 Kathmandu arrival

Welcome briefing.

DAY 2 Drive Kathmandu to Besisahar

760 m.

DAY 3 Drive to Chame

2,710 m. 4WD jeep.

DAY 4 Chame to Pisang

3,200 m.

DAY 5 Pisang acclimatisation

Day hike.

DAY 6 Pisang to Pisang Peak Base Camp

4,380 m.

DAY 7 Base Camp acclimatisation

Pre-climb training.

DAY 8 Base Camp to High Camp

5,400 m.

DAY 9 Summit day to Pisang Peak, back to base

6,091 m.

DAY 10 Reserve / contingency day

Weather buffer.

DAY 11 Base Camp to Manang

3,540 m.

DAY 12 Manang acclimatisation

Day hike.

DAY 13 Manang to Yak Kharka

4,120 m.

DAY 14 Yak Kharka to Thorong Phedi

4,540 m.

DAY 15 Cross Thorong La to Muktinath

5,416 m / 3,800 m.

DAY 16 Drive Muktinath to Pokhara

Long mountain drive.

DAY 17 Drive Pokhara to Kathmandu

Tourist bus.

DAY 18 Departure

Airport transfer.

What's Included

- ✓ NMA climbing permit & ACAP
- ✓ IFMGA climbing guide
- ✓ Group climbing gear
- ✓ Teahouses + tented camps
- ✓ All meals on expedition
- ✓ Kathmandu transfers

What's Not Included

- ✗ International flights
- ✗ Personal climbing gear
- ✗ Travel insurance
- ✗ Nepal visa
- ✗ Tips